House Rules

(Introducing Media Bucks ...)

SAMPLE

Media bucks are the currency for the time you spend on the computer or Wii (or any other electronic device). You will be given 3 Media bucks, Monday through Friday. Each Media buck is worth 15 minutes of media time. You can spend them or save them as you like. They roll over (like some cell phone minutes) but you can never use more than 3 in a day. Below you will find some house rules that you need to follow. The consequences are listed next to the rule.

- DOG TIMER: If you forget to set the timer when you put the dog out, you will have to pick up ALL the dog poop for free!
- OBEDIENCE: If you don't do what you're asked the first time, it will cost you a Media Buck.
- CHORES: Each missed chore will cost a Media Buck unless it is "waived" by Mom or Dad.
- BUSTED! If you are caught playing without paying, you forfeit your turn that day AND the next day's turn (you don't collect any media bucks for forfeit days)
- BONUS: When we catch you doing something "above and beyond" or with a great attitude, you get a bonus! Bonsi! (Good stuff!)

SAMPLE

Weekend Wii Rules:

- Earn 15 minutes for each Scripture memory verse you memorize. Earn 15 minutes media time for every 15 minutes reading the Bible (up to 45minutes per day)

* Media Bucks = You can use up to three a day or roll them to another day. Each buck is 15 minutes.

 Each Media Buck is worth $.15 (cents). If you use up your weekly Media Bucks, you will have to use cash to pay off your-debt. You cannot purchase Media Bucks.
